In Person and Virtual Shabbat/Shavuot Service

Shavuot is one of the three holidays mentioned in the Torah that were traditionally pilgrimages to Jerusalem. Special sacrifices were assigned for these days. It is a commemoration of when the Jewish people received the 10 Commandments on Mount Sinai. The tradition for Shavuot is to devote ourselves to prayer and study and appreciation of a special relationship with God. It is also traditional to study late into the night, so we can prepare ourselves to connect with the most sacred of laws.

It is also traditional to learn from the Book of Ruth on Shavuot, as Ruth was a very special person in Biblical history, whose devotion to her people was a great example for all time.

Friday, June 3 is Erev Shavuot, and TBT will honor this special day.

SUMMER SCHEDULE!!!!

As we move into the summer months there will be a few differences in our Shabbat services. Rabbi Gordon will be going on sabbatical right after June 4. He will be returning mid-August. The Ritual committee has prepared a number of guest leaders as well as other Shabbat celebrations for the coming months. Please watch for your weekly newsletters for continuous updates. We will have two virtual services each month and in-person and virtual services with either Cantor Francyne or a special Shabbat guest. We would like to continue having Oneg's for our in-person services and would greatly appreciate those who are comfortable would sponsor and take care of an Oneg this summer. Please contact Stacey Blumin if you are interested.

TBT Congregational Meeting Scheduled for Tuesday, June 28th at 7:00 pm via Zoom

Each June, TBT holds a congregational meeting to approve a budget for the upcoming fiscal year which begins on July 1.

Information regarding the meeting and an opportunity to vote by proxy will be sent to all members in early June. This meeting is an opportunity to ask questions and offer suggestions. President Shari Ellsworth will also review what's ahead for TBT in the second half of her administration.

The meeting will be held via Zoom and a link will be sent to members.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The Summer Holidays

Two of the most important observances on the Jewish calendar happen to occur during the summer. For many American Jews, these holidays don't get as much attention as the High Holidays, Purim, Passover or Hanukkah. But the historical impact of each is perhaps the most transformative of our entire tradition.

Shavuot comes at the beginning of the summer, this year observed June 4-7. Shavuot, which means "weeks," comes seven weeks after Passover and commemorates receiving the Ten Commandments from God and Moses on Mount Sinai. It could be argued that the very purpose of the Exodus from Egypt was for us to enter into a covenant with God. We receive the Torah, agree to uphold the commandments and the values behind them, and then continue our journey to the Promised Land.

Tish B'Av, or the 9th day of the month of Av, is closer to the end of summer, this year August 12-13. Tish B'Av and Yom Kippur are the only two days on the Hebrew calendar in which Jewish law dictates fasting for the entire day. But unlike Yom Kippur, Tish B'Av is a day in which other work can be done. It commemorates some of the saddest moments in Jewish history, primarily the destruction of the Holy Temple in Jerusalem – both the first AND second Temple were destroyed on the same date.

Why do I suggest that these two holidays are transformative? Each was about a major change in Jewish observance. Many credit the patriarch Abraham as the first Jew, as he was the father of monotheism and started a special covenant with God. But the Jewish religion really took form at Sinai. There, we received the Commandments, or mitzvot – obligations – that solidified that commitment. So, in a sense, Shavuot commemorates the beginning of Torah Judaism. The journey to the Promised Land and King Solomon building the Temple with God's instructions led to new observances listed in the Torah related to sacrifices. When the Temple no longer existed, those sacrifices could no longer happen. It was a time of great mourning for the way of life and observance the Jewish people had experienced with the Temple, and its destruction was a great loss. Tish B'Av is how we observe the yahrtzeit of the Temple, much like we observe the yahrtzeit of our loved ones on the anniversary of their deaths. And just like when we mourn the loss of a family member, we remember the time and move forward. We light a yahrtzeit candle annually, just as we observe Tish B'Av annually. When the Temple was destroyed, the Jewish people found ways other than Temple sacrifices to honor God. Prayer, sacred study, and the forming of synagogues were all part of the transformation that led to Rabbinic Judaism, and the establishment of mitzvot that are appropriate for life without one central Temple. This was our way of moving forward, despite the loss of the Temple.

These historical transformations, coming at the beginning and the end of summer, are timely reminders of transitional times in our lives. Summertime is often a bridge to powerful transitions. Young people matriculate to a new grade, or a new school, or a job. Adults may use the summer to refresh and recommit. The Jewish calendar gives us this time before Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur to pause in some of our usual endeavors to prepare for a New Year mentally and spiritually. Both sad and happy occasions move us to make the changes that will propel us into each new year and each new experience. The seasons of life help remind us of the temporary nature of time. We are constantly moving, from childhood to adolescence to adulthood to our elder years. Summer can enable us to slow down a bit to get ready for that next chapter of life.

Have a wonderfully enriching summer and may all our transitions help us grow.

L'shalom,

Rabbi Dan Gordon

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE:

I am a teacher. I teach middle school. I feel lucky that I teach electives and not core subjects. I get to explore the world with my students in a different format. I teach theatre and leadership. My goals are for the students to gain an understanding of the world from other perspectives.

In leadership we watch some inspirational videos. In one of those videos the speaker talks about something he calls a "lollipop moment." Basically, he describes an event where he made a very big impact on a student's life, and he never knew of its importance until the student approached him four years later. The purpose of his speech was twofold. One, that we touch other people's lives so often and don't even know it and two, others have impacted us, and we have not told them.

I tell you this story because I wanted to remind you that even the very small things we do, can have a meaningful impact on others. I suggest that we all take a moment to show appreciation and gratitude for those who have greatly affected our lives and share these feelings with those who have touched us in some way.

TBT's Rabbi Dan Gordon to Complete His Sabbatical

The Temple Beth Torah Board of Directors has granted Rabbi Dan a sabbatical which will be completed this summer in appreciation of the years of service to the congregation. This will be a time for our beloved rabbi to become rejuvenated and refreshed. Rabbi Dan will be away from the synagogue beginning June 5 and he returns August 18. During this time, please relay any questions for him to our administrator, Stacey Blumin at admin@tbthumble.org.

Rabbi Dan may be away on a well-deserved break, but TBT will have some exciting guest leaders for our Shabbat services during this time including Cantor Francyne Davis Jacobs and Ellie Flier. Congratulations to Rabbi Dan on a well-deserved break!

and from the Rabbi...

Loren and I are appreciative of an extended vacation this summer. While I am usually on vacation in July, these extra weeks are a welcome time to refresh and be ready for dynamic programming in the New Year. Torah Portions for June 2022

Summarized by Rabbi Dan Gordon

June 4-5, 2022 Bamidbar, Numbers 1:1-4:20

At the beginning of the Book of Numbers, Moses is instructed to take a census of the entire Israelite nation. Each of the tribes is listed with their descendants, and a number is assigned to each. Each tribe is given specific tasks. Aaron and his sons prepare the sacred objects and curtains connected to the Ark of the Covenant, where the tablets of the Ten Commandments are carried throughout the desert.

June 10-11, 2022 Naso Numbers 4:21-7:89

"Naso" concludes the census, and the work of the various clans is described. Practical instructions are given regarding sanitary conditions in the Israelite camp and restitution for stolen property. To appease a suspicious husband, a "ritual in cases of jealousy" is given. People who wish to become Nazarites may not drink alcohol, have contact with a corpse or cut their hair.

We find the Priestly Benediction in this Torah portion, which has become a blessing for all life cycle events: "May the LORD bless you and watch over you; May the LORD's countenance shine upon you and be gracious to you; May the LORD's presence be with you, and may He grant you peace" (Numbers 6:24-26).

June 17-18, 2022 Beha'alotcha Numbers 8:1-12:16

The Israelites complain to Moses about their living conditions in the desert, and a disgusted Moses complains to God about them. God's response is to instruct Moses to delegate his power. Later Miriam and Aaron, Moses' brother and sister, demonstrate their jealousy by criticizing Moses, especially his choice of a Cushite wife. Miriam is punished with leprosy for her jealousy, but Moses pleads to God, "Heal her – heal her now!" Miriam's affliction lasts just seven days.

June 24-25, 2022 Shelach-Lecha Numbers 13:1-15:41

After hearing that the land of Israel is filled with giants, the people tell Moses and Aaron that they want to go back to Egypt. God furiously threatens to disown them and create a new nation, but Moses appeals to God's concern for His own reputation and God pardons the ingrates. Moses tells the people that the "ger" or stranger is to be treated like an Israelite, the Sabbath must be observed and tzitzit must be worn to remind them to observe all the commandments.
