RABBI'S MESSAGE

The Art of Passionate Disagreement

Often, someone will ask me a question that begins with, “What do Jews think about...” I have a good friend who always gets a kick out of my usual answer. “It depends on the Jew.” The popular joke is, “If you have two Jews, there are at least three opinions.” This is not frivolous humor. It comes from the Talmud. Disputes among Talmudic rabbis were common, and sometimes the arguments crossed generations. The disagreements in the Talmud were often philosophical issues or minute details of rituals and ethical behavior. A few examples:

Regarding the question, “Which is more important, learning or action?” One Talmudic passage (Shabbat 127a) insists that Torah learning is more important than anything. “The study of Torah is equal to all.” But Pirke Avot (1:17) states, “It is not the study that is essential, but the action.” Then, in the Babylonian Talmud (Kiddushin 40b) Rabbi Akiva and Rabbi Tarfon are posed the same question by elders. “Rabbi Tarfon answered, saying: ‘Action is greater.’ Rabbi Akiva answered, saying: ‘Study is greater.’ All the rest agreed with Akiva that study is greater than action because it leads to action.”

These may seem like unimportant discussions, but these rabbis were framing behavior for generations to come. More important than the final answer was the respectful manner in which discussions took place. Of course, when people are passionate about an issue, it might not always be pleasant. There is a famous Talmudic story (Bava Metzia 59a-b) about whether or not a certain oven was kosher. The acknowledged expert on kashrut, Rabbi Eliezar, insisted it was kosher, but Rabbi Joshua and two rabbis insisted it was not. When Rabbi Eliezar’s powerful persuasions did not make a difference to the other rabbis, he called upon a Voice from Heaven. According to the story, the Heavenly Voice sided with Rabbi Eliezar. Rabbi Joshua basically said (paraphrasing here): “OK. Now it’s three to two. You still lose.” He cited Deuteronomy 30:12 that states that the Torah was given to mankind on earth, and even a Voice from Heaven is not a sufficient veto. And Rabbi Eliezar, a respected sage, was humiliated.

There is a tragic flaw in this story. The importance of being right over anything else. While passionate disagreement is the Jewish way, these rabbis lost sight of the issue, and it became more important to win the argument. Not only did they forget about the laws of kashrut and the oven; they forgot about civility.

It is absolutely important to stand up for what we feel is right. But too often, extreme positions take the place of listening to each other, seeing the nuances of another person’s perspective and looking for ways to compromise. Rabbi Brad Hirschfield, who spent several years living in Israel, experienced disagreements between extreme positions in the Israeli/Palestinian conflict first-hand. He wrote a book called, “You don’t have to be wrong for me to be right.” Only when we can look beyond our initial judgments and truly listen to other points of view, can we begin to solve disagreements in respectful ways. The Babylonian Talmud (Eruvim 13b) acknowledges that great teachings come from both the houses of Rabbi Hillel and Rabbi Shammai: “Both schools espouse the words of the living God, but Halakha (law and practice) follows the school of Hillel.” This was because Hillel was known for humility and Shammai for arrogance. Hillel’s students were known to study Shammai’s points of view before coming to their own conclusions. We are taught “Those who seek greatness, greatness will flee from them. Those who are patient and humble will succeed.”

In today’s world, we sadly find many examples of individuals and coalitions who try to succeed by pushing others down, insisting that there is only one right way. Listening to a variety of viewpoints, humbly and respectfully, brings us to understand each other in beautiful ways. Dr. Martin Luther King was known to say, “Love is the only thing that can turn an enemy into a friend.” Rabbi Charlie Cytron-Walker added, “If we live this way, we’ll have a lot more friends with whom we disagree; but we’ll have a lot fewer enemies.”

L’shalom,

Rabbi Dan Gordon

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE:

Spring is in the air! Girl scouts are selling cookies, and Purim is around the corner. We always try to do a carnival and activities for the kids. Beanbag toss games, face painting, telling the story and making noise. It is always a good time, lots of dress up and acting and booing and cheering. This year however is going to be extra special. Thanks to a generous donation to our legacy fund, we are going to have some special guests all the way from California for Purim weekend this year. Look for information on this weekend of fun, and music on the front page. This is a great time for people to come together and have a great time and I look forward to seeing everyone at TBT over the weekend.

Last month we took the older Sunday school kids to the Holocaust Museum Houston and did a great tour with TBT's own Mike Cahn. Thanks, Mike, for all you do for TBT and the Museum. The kids learned a lot about the Holocaust and why it is important to be an upstander, someone who stands up for others. Back in class we talked about ways we can do this in school and a big theme that came out is to make friends with others and sit with the kid who eats alone at lunch, to be the one who reaches out to others and bring them into your friend group. In the spirit of being an upstander I want to reach out to everyone in our community to come to the temple and enjoy the fellowship and friendship.

L'shalom,

Mike Miller - TBT President

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL HAPPENINGS – by Carrie Keith - Principal

March will be a fun month at TBT Religious School. The students have been busy making masks, crowns, and megillah for our Purim celebration on March 24th. Everyone will be making hamantaschen on Sunday March 3rd. We have lots of delicious fillings from which to choose.

Our Purim weekend begins on Friday, March 22 with the Yedidiah Family Band, visiting us from California, to celebrate Shabbat. Make sure to mark your calendars for this exciting fun-filled family Shabbat service! More learning and fun activities will be held on Saturday.

And on Sunday, March 24th the Yedidiah Family Band will help us all celebrate Purim with songs and stories. Religious School will begin at 9:00am. Our special Purim Program will start at 10:30 am in the sanctuary followed by Souper Sunday Lunch. Everyone is welcome to attend. Please rsvp for the program and lunch at admin@tbthumble.org so we have plenty of soup, salad and desserts for all.

Submit Healing List Names at the First of Each Month

Our healing list will now be updated at the first of each month. If you know of someone who is on the list who should remain on the list, please let us know. This list is important, but also can get quite lengthy, so we want to make sure all the names we read are timely. Please email admin@tbthumble.org and rabbi@tbthumble.org to be added.

THE CARING COMMITTEE

The Caring Committee can help in stressful times, such as family illness, death, birth, etc. We can provide a meal and offer sympathy, transportation, childcare, or congratulations for simchas. If you know of a congregant who could use a little caring, contact our Caring Committee at admin@tbthumble.org or leave a message at TBT, 281-446-5611.

Yahrtzeit Memorial Plaques

The minimum donation for one memorial plaque to be placed on the wall in the sanctuary remains $300. However, those purchasing two plaques at the same time can do so for $500, a savings of $100. It usually takes at least a month for a plaque to be engraved and sent back to the temple. There are three memorial boards in the sanctuary, and there are very few spaces left. Thanks to the generosity of the Kaufman family, a new memorial board has been ordered, and will be installed sometime soon, hopefully. You may consult with the rabbi for the Hebrew name and date by emailing Rabbi Dan Gordon at rabbi@tbthumble.org Checks must be sent to TBT prior to the plaque being ordered.

ONEG INFORMATION

Thank you to everyone who has provided an Oneg recently. They have been delicious and a highlight to every Shabbat. Thank you also to those who have sponsored an Oneg with your generous donations. Preparing an Oneg is a wonderful way to celebrate a special event. It is also a way to commemorate a Yahrtzeit for a loved one. If you would like to do an Oneg, please leave a message for Shari Ellesworth at 281-446-5611, or email admin@tbthumble.org

Torah Portions for March 2024

Summarized by Rabbi Dan Gordon

March 1-2, 2024 Ki Tissa Exodus 30:11-34:35

This is one of the most dramatic Torah portions, which includes the Israelites losing faith and building a Golden Calf to worship. Moses pleads with G-d to show mercy, and then his own anger causes him to break the tablets. Those who are not willing to come back to the LORD are killed. But the Torah portion includes reconciliation, as G-d instructs Moses to construct a new set of tablets "like the first." The first set were written by G-d; the second by Moses, empowering a human, and in turn, humanity, to maintain the commitment and the covenant.

March 8-9, 2024 Vayakhel 35:1-38:20

Vayakhel describes the specifics of the wood and other items required in building the tabernacle. But it begins with a reprise of the commandment to rest on Shabbat. This teaches us that even a highly important task like the tabernacle is not more important than our weekly day devoted to rest and rejuvenation.

March 15-16, 2024 Pekude 38:21-40:38

"Pekude" means "records" and refers to the accounting of the gold, silver, copper and yarn that were used to make the Tabernacle. In this last portion of Exodus, the presence of the Lord fills the Tabernacle. Traditional rabbinic commentators have compared the building of the Tabernacle to the creation of the world itself.

March 22-23, 2023 Vayikrah Leviticus 1:1-5:26

"Vayikrah" is both the name of the book, which in English is translated as Leviticus, and the name of our Torah portion. While the book contains sacrificial practices which are completely out of date, the issue of the proper form of atonement for modern Jews is a contemporary one. According to some rabbinic commentators, prayer has replaced sacrifice for the modern Jew. The description of what constitutes sin in Leviticus demonstrates the ethical principles of our tradition. In Judaism, each individual must take responsibility for making amends to God: no person can sacrifice her or his life for another's.

March 29-30, 2024 Tzav Leviticus 6:1-8:36

G-d instructs Moses to teach Aaron and his sons the rights and duties they will take on in becoming priests. They, and their descendants, will be the ones to offer the sacrifices in the Sanctuary. A fire on the holy altar must be kept burning at all times in preparation for the sacrifices. The Kohanim (priests) must learn the variety of different offerings for peace, sin and guilt, and practice very specific rituals regarding each. Aaron and his sons remain in the sanctuary compound for seven days, and Moses installs them into the priesthood.

KROGER card to support TBT.

Kroger has upgraded their Community Rewards system and as a result TBT has a new account number- VE980. Please use this new number when linking your Kroger card to TBT so we can receive a percentage of your Kroger purchases. It's an easy way to help TBT earn some money. While the previous number will continue to be associated with our organization, it will not be visible to members when enrolling. New members can enroll by searching for either VE980 or Temple Beth Torah. If you are a Kroger shopper, please link your Kroger card to TBT at no cost to you.

For HAAM (Humble Area Assistance Ministries)

Our local partner, HAAM, works hard to keep the pantry stocked to help those in need. As we open our hearts to our own families, let us also remember others. You can bring non-perishable food donations to the temple, and we will arrange to get it to HAAM. Needed items include canned beans, canned fruit (low sugar), canned chicken and tuna and canned vegetables (low sodium). Pastas, sauces, breakfast cereals, mac and cheese and baby food. Hygiene items are also needed, like toilet paper, paper towels, toothbrushes, toothpaste, razors, soap, shampoo, and conditioner. This kind of tzedakah helps people hold onto dignity while receiving loving and necessary gifts. Thank you.
